Basic System Monitoring

The Basic Monitoring features are free of charge for Ammonit Meteo-40 plus data loggers. Hence, you can check system performance and data plausibility in weekly reviews. The basic version offers also two plots for visual data quality checks: XY plot and wind direction plot.

You can implement filters and alarms. If a filter triggers, AmmonitOR can send alert messages. So you are informed about potential failures or low power supply. Certain file formats for data exports are also available, e.g., *.xls, *.csv and other Open Office formats.

Advanced Data Management

The Advanced Data Management covers all features that are related with data analysis, data processing and reporting. To use the Advance Data Management features you need a Premium Credit Account, which you can ea-sily and quickly create. By spending credits you enable the premium features per device and month.

The Advanced Data Management includes all plots for visual data analysis, statistics as well as photos for project documentation. The PDF report generation and certain data export file formats are also premium features.

AmmonitOR Quick Start

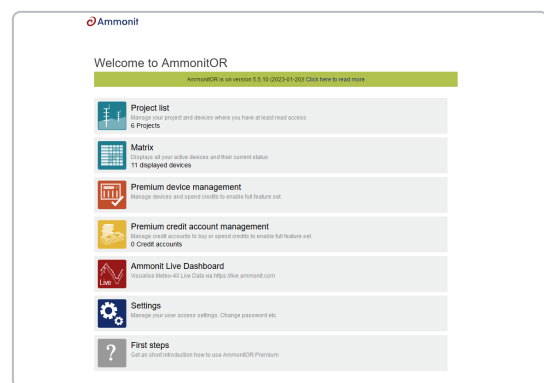

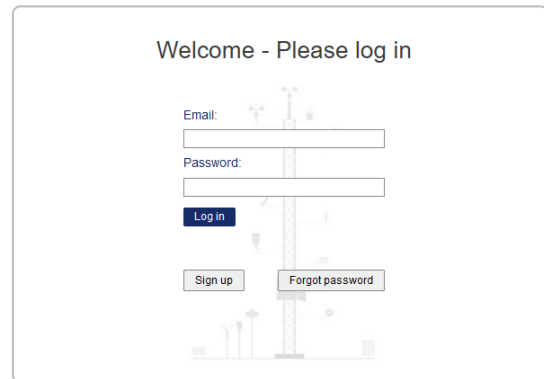

Registration

Register via Sign up on the AmmonitOR login page: <https://or.ammonit.com>.

Once the account is created, you have access to all example projects, e.g., the Ammonit field test project, which provides data from the Ammonit test site. The mast is located on the roof of our office building (the data is not representative due to the inner city location). Other example projects show measurement campaigns of our partners, e.g., wind and solar measurement stations in Brazil and Turkey, as well as a test project for power curve measurement.

Dashboard

After login, the Dashboard displays the following:

Credit account

By clicking on the Premium account icon, you access your credit account. You can have more than one credit account.

Create your credit account by adding your name, a billing name, i.e., the company, which will be invoiced for the credits, and the country, in which the invoiced company is located.

Optionally, you can enter your Ammonit Business Partner ID, if known. The credit account has to be verified by Ammonit.

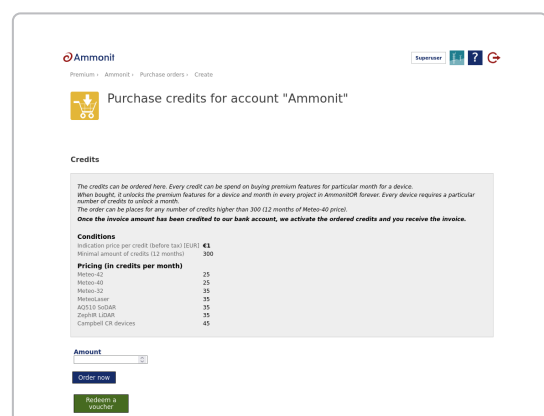

Purchasing credits

As soon as Ammonit has verified your credit account you receive a note. To buy credits click on the Get credits icon next to the credit account which should be invoiced.

You have to order a minimum of 300 credits. You can also redeem a voucher (each new produced Meteo-40 data logger comes with a 3-months voucher).

All your purchase orders are listed in your Premium account overview. According to your terms of payment Ammonit processes your order. You receive a note as soon as the ordered credits are available in your account.

What do I always get for free?

The free feature period covers the latest three months of data. But the most important features such as Timeline, Journal and Alarms are always free. And, most importantly, the Data logger files feature, allowing you to download original files, is also on the free feature list.
